INTERNSHIP and LEADERSHIP TRAINING for students at UTD and UTA

Responsibilities: each student will serve as a team leader, mentor and translators for 5-7 women who are participating in the Life Skills program. This internship is ideal for females of Ethiopian or Eritrean heritage who speak some Amharic or Tigrena in addition to English.

Location and hours: The Life Skills program will be held at the Audelia Library, 10045 Audelia Road @Church (close to the Park Lane area). Interns are required to be onsite from 9 am to 1 pm each Saturday.

Dates: spring semester 2011, January 14 through May 26.

Total number of hours: 80 hours onsite on Saturday mornings, up 40 additional hours at other venues, flexible according to student's availability and as necessary for individual program requirements.

Additional opportunities to explore related issues such as refugees, health, immigrant culture are offered from our partners (Catholic Charities, the Dallas Public Library, RISD, Univision, etc.). DFW International also provides professional training in leadership and communications, social media skills, translation techniques, using Excel and Dreamweaver and other software programs.

Credit for this unpaid internship is available through UTD and UTA. This amount of hours will generally count as towards 2 to 3 course credits, but interns will need to communicate with their respective university to finalize course credit. Contact Dr. Habte Woldu at UTD (214-228-0199) or Dr. Alusine Jalloh at UTA (817-272-5302). To apply, send your resume to Anne Marie Weiss-Armush at the address given below.

Spring and Fall Internships – Global and Multicultural Issues

Internships are available through UNT, UTD, UTA, SMU and University of Dallas to assist with special projects while simultaneously experiencing international cultures right here in North Texas. This opportunity is ideal for students interested in demographics, applied anthropology, international business and finance, globalization, marketing and pr and multicultural issues. International students are especially welcome. Students work on individual levels and in teams as they liaison between staff and a variety of multicultural groups, civic leaders, and media. They will improve skills in the areas of communication, organization, efficiency, and negotiation that are transferable to their future careers.

Students usually work on a major global-themed activity, which offers experience in organizing and in event planning. These may include:

Life Skills Certificate for Eritrean / Ethiopian Women

Dallas International Festival

African Unity Festival

Fiesta Latinoamericana!

Navidad Latin American Christmas Concert

African Leadership Luncheon

Dinner with the Mayors

Homebuyers Workshops

Interested students should send their resume via email to Anne Marie Weiss-Armush at the address below.
